Celebrating Cultures, Creating Connections Cul-Week 2025

Day 1, themed Handloom Heritage, came alive with buzzing crowds, vibrant stalls, and engaging association events that truly captured the spirit of community. The amphitheatre resonated with the electrifying beats of the dhol, drawing people in from every corner of the campus. Students, teachers, and members of staff explored beautifully crafted handloom pieces, sampled delicacies, and enjoyed interactive activities that celebrated tradition in modern ways. The blend of colours, music, and laughter created an atmosphere of warmth and togetherness, setting the perfect tone for the rest of Cul-Week's festivities

Day 2, themed Masquerade, unfolded in an air of mystery and elegance, with buzzing crowds, vibrant stalls, and engaging association events that carried the spirit of celebration throughout the campus. Students, teachers, and members of staff donned ornate masks, adding a touch of intrigue as they explored the lively stalls, savoured delicious treats, and participated in activities that celebrated creativity and artistry. The swirl of colours, glittering costumes, and laughter—shrouded in a playful sense of secrecy—created a magical atmosphere, perfectly capturing the essence of Cul-Week's second day. The evening culminated in the DJB Auditorium, where a live band performance brought the crowd together, ending the day on a high note of music and celebration.

Day 3, themed Y2K, burst into a vibrant celebration of retro-futuristic nostalgia, with buzzing crowds, neon colours, and bold, metallic fashion bringing the campus to life. Students, teachers, and members of staff embraced the early-2000s vibe with chunky accessories, funky sunglasses, and playful digital-inspired styles as they explored lively stalls, savoured delicious treats, and took part in themed activities. The highlight of the afternoon was the Clash of Classes in the DJB Auditorium, where spirited teams competed in a series of creative and energetic challenges hosted by the Student Council. The day transitioned into the grand valedictory ceremony, honouring and awarding the winners of Cul-Week, before the celebrations continued in full swing at the DJB basement with a high-energy DJ set that had everyone dancing through the afternoon.
